

The Colorado Speech-Language Hearing Association Presents:
2012 Spring Conference
Featuring Jim Sandstrum - MA, CCC-SLP

Using Mobile Technology in Speech Therapy: iApplications for Improving Speech Outcomes

Monday, April 2, 2012 8:30-4:30

Description: This hands-on workshop will offer strategies for speech pathologists to implement iTechnology (iPads, iPhones, iPods) in a variety of therapy settings, including:

- device use and management, built-in features, logistics, and accessibility
- app consideration and selection strategies
- intervention and implementation ideas

Participants will have an opportunity to work in small groups to explore apps and discuss strengths and challenges as well as implementation ideas. Resources and handouts provided will include app reviews, use cases, resources for free apps, and more!

This workshop is for those with limited experience. Participants will leave the session with the knowledge and comfort to begin using the iPad. The presentation will be intervention-based, with a wide range of therapy ideas explored.

Learner Outcomes:

- Identify strategies for evaluating strengths and challenges of using the iPad for speech therapy
- Evaluate apps that they are considering to determine if they are a good fit for their needs.
- Identify resources to help evaluate apps that might be useful.
- Implement the iPad in therapeutic settings

About the Presenter: Jim Sandstrum, M.A., CCC-SLP, is the Coordinator of Business Services for Assistive Technology Partners at the University of Colorado Anschutz. He is an expert clinician who has witnessed the benefits of technology when appropriately considered in the context of an individual's concerns, priorities and resources. Mr. Sandstrum has provided consultation to a wide array of agencies and organizations on strategies for the implementation of technology to improve function. As an educator, he teaches graduate level classes on assistive technology and disability, and presents widely on topics relating to assistive technology and accessible information and communication technologies.

BYODevice: iDevices are not necessary for participation in the event but we encourage you to bring your iTechnology to enhance the learning experience. Demonstration equipment will not be available on the day of the event.
